

About Us

Daily Innovations was founded in 2007 by a Carnegie Mellon University graduate, Kevin Daily. Daily Innovations is located in Zelienople, PA which is approximately 40 minutes north of Pittsburgh in Butler County.

We specialize in domain name registrations and transfers, website hosting and custom website development.

Our current clients include small businesses, individuals and organizations. We pride ourselves on offering our clients exceptional service at a fair price by working closely with our customers to provide them with the right services to meet their needs.